

PCRC International Law Seminar Series

3rd International Law Seminar

An Introduction to International Climate Change Law

国際気候変動法入門

Speaker: Dr. Nikolas Sellheim

(JSPS Research Fellow, Polar Cooperation Research Centre)

21 November 2017 (Tue), 10:40-12:10

Simulation Room, 6th floor of GSICS building

Book Reviews Editor (2012), Deputy (2015), and Co-Editor in Chief (2016-), Polar Record. Obtained Ph.D. in law from University of Lapland (Finland) in 2016. Specialises in law and anthropology, particularly relating to marine mammal wildlife utilisation. JSPS Postdoctoral Fellow and Senior Research Fellow, Polar Cooperation Research Centre (PCRC), Kobe University (February 2017- February 2018)

4th International Law Seminar

The Participation of Non-State Actors in International Environmental Governance: Learning from Arctic IPs

国際環境ガバナンスへの非国家主体の参加：北極先住民族から学ぶ

Speaker: Marzia Scopelliti (Complutense University of Madrid)

18 December 2017 (Mon), 15:10-16:40

Presentation Room, 4th floor of GSICS building

Marzia Scopelliti is PhD researcher in International Law at the Complutense University of Madrid. Her research examines the participation of non-State actors in international climate governance, also exploring the emerging relationship between global warming and the enjoyment of Human Rights. Originally from Italy, she received her MSc Degree in IR from the University of Milan. Her research interest includes: International Environmental Law, Arctic Governance and Climate Change Law. In fall 2017, Marzia is Research Fellow at the PCRC-GSICS, Kobe University, Japan.

どなたでもご自由にご参加いただけます。
いずれのセミナーも英語で行われます（通訳はありません）。

Upcoming International Law Seminar

Narimitsu Kato “MPA as a Tool for New High Seas Fisheries Management”

12 January 2018 (Fri), 15:10-16:10 @ Presentation Room